THE BEAUMONT PARTNERSHIP
ARCHITECTURE | INTERIORS | LANDSCAPE

The Beaumont Partnership initially entered the Thai market in 1991 as Woods Bagot. Since then this integrated design studio has provided master planning, architecture, interior and landscape design services within Thailand, South East Asia, the India Ocean and the Middle East in the commercial, residential, hospitality, education and age-care and lifestyle sectors.

In 1998, Tim Beaumont and partners engaged in a management buyout, and thus the Beaumont Partnership was born.

Within the last 25 years, the Beaumont Partnership has gained a reputation for innovation and astute commercially design and has lead the market in hospitality, residential and education design. Much of commercial and the design success has come from the professionals within the partnership with the CEO actively engaging in the commercial and the creative direction of the business in addition to each shareholder being actively involved in the business.

The studio currently has around 90 designers and work in many countries. The company's commitment to place-making as a key design driver enables the teams to make outstanding contributions to the built environment.

The Beaumont Partnership is committed to the pursuit and integration of environmentally sustainable principles throughout the work. The studio objective is to provide clients with products of high performance standards which respond appropriately to their needs, while reducing the impact on the environment.
