“Introduction to Tony Gee”

By

Iain Mowatt MSc BSc(Hons) FCIQB ACI Arb POSHA MHKIE(Ret)

Jamal Abdul Nasser Street Elevated Roadway, Kuwait

- Alternative design of entire structure, comprising 350,000 m² elevated deck
- One of largest precast segmental bridge projects in the world

A short presentation to introduce proper Temporary Works controls, peer reviews, the designer's responsibility and Systems Assurance on Tony Gee's (contractor's specialist design) bridge capability and introduction to HK-Temporary Works forum (TWf).

SPET's speaker Iain, is a Civil Engineer with a post graduate degree in construction management. He has worked on client side project management in Thailand and for contractors and a consulting engineer in Hong Kong. He was the Engineering and Risk Manager for a Leighton Gammon JV for one of Asia's largest construction projects, the USD3 billion Express Rail Terminal in West Kowloon and then head of Temporary Works for Gammon Construction. Iain took over the temporary works function at Gammon following a major failure of temporary works with a view to overhaul the way temporary works were designed, certified and constructed. He is the current chairman of the HK-Temporary Works forum. <http://www.twforum.org.hk/home.vbhtml>

Iain is the holder of the Derek Smythe award for leadership in safety in construction, awarded for his pioneering work in temporary works, both for Gammon and TWf.

Iain now works for Tony Gee and Partners as the business development director for Asia. He was a past chairman of the Lighthouse Club Asia Pacific Chapter.

Entry fee is Baht 200 for Members of SPET and Baht 400 for all others.
